SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Memorial meeting held in Hall of Representatives by Legislature and state officers.

NEW YORK.—Press memorial meeting at Carnegie Hall addressed by President Roosevelt, Cardinal Gibbons and Joseph Choate.

RICHMOND, Ind.—Annual meeting in Town Hall addressed by John G. Carlisle, Associate Citizen.

HODGENVILLE, Ky., Feb. 11.—The centenary of Abraham Lincoln's birth tomorrow will be observed generally throughout the United States, but nowhere will the commemoration exercises command more interest than those to be held in this county, where Lincoln was born on the Lincoln farm, which has been purchased by popular subscription and presented to the people of the United States. President Roosevelt will lay the cornerstone of a memorial building which has been erected by popular subscription to mark Lincoln's birthplace, and to protect for all time the little log cabin in which the martyr President was born.

The customary address will be delivered by President Roosevelt. Senator Luke E. Wright, the Secretary of War, will speak on behalf of the Confederate soldiers. General Grant Wilcox will represent the veterans of the Union army, and Lincoln's native state will be represented by Governor Augustus E. Willson, of Kentucky. Other addresses will be made by Bishop Galloway, of Mississippi, and ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri.

Where Lincoln Spent Childhood.

Hodgenville, which is near the geographical center of the State of Kentucky and not far from the center of population of the United States, proper, was to become a new Mecca in America and the Holy Land of the United States. Vermin. He lived here for eight years, went swimming in the nearby creek and by the light from the huge fireplace in the little one-room cabin learned his first lessons.

It was in 1816 that Thomas Lincoln brought his bride, Nancy Hanks, with a rude little cart, to the Rock Spring Farm, 10 miles of Hodgenville, in Larue County, and built the log cabin that was to make seven, a sewing machine and a piano. Mr. Lincoln is attorney in the vicinity, besides going to other counties in the circuit. Some of the logs in the old cabin are said to be of the identical logs used to take little Abe Lincoln to school. These are children who say that there is not a section of the old log cabin several miles of Hodgenville along which Abraham Lincoln has not played or on which he has not driven his ox team.

Wished to Revisit Birthplace.

In 1861 the Lincolns sold the little farm and moved to Indiana, but Abraham Lincoln never forgot the first home. He rarely referred to it, but after he had become President of the United States, he is known to have said:

"When the war is over, I would like very much to visit my old Kentucky home, I remember well."

But he never did return and the farm and the little log cabin are a sacred history. Thomas Lincoln sold the place to a Kentucky farmer and it remained in their hands for over 50 years. Its beautiful rock spring was apparently the one redeeming feature and only recently has it become accessible to the pilgrimages that there will never more be such visitors as the early decades during the 60s to the National Capital.

Work on Isthmus to Continue as Began and Canal to Be Finished in Four Years—Hearty Reception at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—President-elect W. H. Taft landed here shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon from Panama, and was enthusiastically received. He will be the guest until Saturday morning. Mr. Taft made a brief speech this afternoon, heartily approving the lock type of canal across the Isthmus.

Tomorrow he will address the negro Y. M. C. A. and at night he will be the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet. Mr. Taft received by wireless telegraph tonight the news of the unanimous confirmation of his appointment as Secretary of War by the Senate. Mr. Taft was somewhat disturbed over the situation last night, but early today he received the news at the discretion of Congress to amend the Culebra cutting law. He was inclined to take this as a happy omen of the difficulty.

Finish Canal by 1913.

On his trip from Panama, Mr. Taft made the first depth of 100 hoogaad soundings. This he intends to submit to certain friends in Washington next week.

In his address here today Mr. Taft made what he said was his summing up of his trip.

"I am sure on my way from a great constructive work," he said. "The greatest enforced idle by any nations during the generation, and I am glad to say to you that the work is going on as you would have it go on, that in the first of January, 1913, at least, if not before—and I am very much interested in having it within the next four years—the canal will be completed, and when that time comes you will see floating down this river your great commerce, boats brought down straits to the west coast of South America, to the Orient and to Australia.

FIND OLD ALTAR OF PERSIAN SECT

VALUABLE DISCOVERIES AT JANICULUM.

Some Rites of Ancient Worshipers of Mithras Similar to Those of Moses.

ROME, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Archeologists working at Janiculum have discovered an altar used in the mysterious worship of Mithras, and in its terrific fitness therein have found an explanation of the name used by the ancient worshipers of the Persian deity. They report that many of the practices of the ancient sect are identical with some of those adopted by the First Masons.

Professor Boggi, who directed the excavating, also gives it as his belief that this sect, among other of its practices, at times made human sacrifice to their deity. This belief he bases on the finding of human bones near the altar. Four skeletons, all of young men, were at first thought to be of animals, but they have been positively identified as human remains. Further report of the investigations are to be withheld until the researchers are interviewed.

His arrival was made signal by the declaration that the long distance weather forecast is a success, and that the weather office has proved its ability to detect approaching storm areas from 24 to 36 hours in advance.

As an instance, Professor Moore cited the cold snap, preceded and accompanied by much moisture and microscopic currents, that has just passed over this city en rou te New England. When that storm was discovered hovering just accused multiplied proportions, it was landed in Eastern Asia, but its baggage was checked right through.

MAY WHEAT $1.13; PATTEN IN SADDLE

Yesterday's PriceHigh-est Since 1905.

BEARS ARE KEPT ON RUN

Bull Leader Is Determined to Force Things.

BIG SHORTS NEW YORKERS

They Book on Hope That High Price Will Bring Forth Invisible Supply and That Break Will Follow, Despite Patten.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—May wheat today touched $1.14, which price is higher than during the great boy excitement of 1897, and higher than any previous time since the Cures deal, which originated in April, 1898.

James A. Patten, the big bull leader in wheat, has become the supreme power in the market and is determined to force things. Patten's name was pending the market judiciously, supporting it when easy, turning it with short sales when inclined to show nervousness, and buying enough at the last to raise it at the top prices of the season.

Patten Rides Storm.

It is plainly Patten's intention to rout the bears and close out the bull trade at last. In this he has been successful, the storm raising the market on every break, and the destruction of the big trader is going to make a decided hole in the outstanding dug.

Shorts have been given no respite and hardly a chance for more than a temporary breathing spell since the market left $1.06 for May on January 26. Many of the large traders in the May pit, those who sold out Monday on Patten's advice to take profits, are said to be looking for a reaction on Tuesday's decision, and the Patten control of the situation is therefore more keenly alive to that attempt to shake the big dog loose.

New Yorkers on Short End.

Thus far the big shorts are keeping quiet and will not at present, it is said,

YOUNG GIRL ADMITS GUILT

PORTLAND LASS SAYS SHE STOLE FROM MEN.

Refuses to Divulge Identity to Court, but Tells Police Who Write People.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Claire Curtiss, daughter of a prominent Portland family, who, while living with friends in San Francisco and posing as a bookkeeper with employment in Oakland, stole upon pedestrians, today pleaded guilty before Judge Brown to grand larceny. The crime to which she admits guilt is the theft of a diamond pin and $10 from Alex McLaer. The case was referred to Probation Officer Rooth.

Claire Curtiss is not the real name of the young woman, who is pretty, and says she is 18 years old. She refused in court this morning to give her real name. She had a confession, who is a police matron, and who has given the fictitious name of Mattie Brown. The case of the latter is still pending in the police courts.

The police have commenced with the guardian of the girls but refuse to disclose their identity.

FIRST CRASH ON NEW LINE

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 11.—The first wreck on the new Billings & Northern Railroad occurred at Bridger, 50 miles south of Billings and east of Great Falls. One man, an assistant foreman, was killed. The locomotive of an eastbound freight, followed by the first two cars to the train, left the rails and went into the ditch. NO STOP FOR LEMP CASE

JUDGE WILL NOT PERMIT EARLY CLOSE.

Attorneys for Defendant May Try Mowsety, to Prevent Lemp's Testifying.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 11.—Before the trial of the divorce suit of Mrs. Lilliam Lemp vs. Edwin Lemp adjourned today until Saturday, Mrs. Lemp's attorney announced they will file a motion Saturday asking that a change of venue be thrown in the case may stands. This would bar out the testimony of W. J. Lemp, Jr., and all of his witnesses if granted. Judge Hitchcock had the lawyers in both divorces the motion and would hear the arguments Saturday.

At the trial of the Lemp divorce case today in Judge Hitchcock's court the reading of the deposition of Mr. Lemp was continued. Special details of most of Mrs. Lemp's allegations make up the deposition.

Mrs. Lemp, mother of Mrs. Lemp, testified that on several occasions Lemp had talked with him with reference to getting a divorce from his daughter. He told me he did not love her, nor any woman except, possibly, Miss Lillian Gerhardt Cahill, but he was willing for her to have it," said Mr. Headlee, who was on the stand only a few minutes.

G. G. Priest, of Milwaukee, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Lemp, testified that Mrs. Headlee, his sister, had for witnesses to the alleged antenuptial agreement between Mr. Lemp and Miss Headlee that, if children were born, the mother would not attempt to influence them in a religious way. He identified the document as being in the hand of Mrs. Lemp, and declared Miss Headlee read it before attaching her signature thereto.

DISCUSS ALL QUESTIONS

GERMANY AND BRITAIN ON WAY TO AGREEMENT.

Conference of Hardings and Von Bulow Brings Result—King at Sister's Tomb.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Intense curiosity is felt in the German people concerning Sir Charles Hardinge's coming visit. Chancellor von Bulow last night. The authorities, however, maintain the strictest reticence and claim that every subject was touched upon in which the policy of both nations is interested and that the result was most satisfactory.

The indisposition of the King from a mild attack of bronchial catarrh is so slight that he was able to carry out the greater part of the prearranged programme without inconvenience. Accompanied by the Queen and the Empress Frederick, he visited the tomb of his sister Victoria on the banks of the Rhine Sunday morning. The royal party afterwards dined with the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess at their palace, after which they attended the opera.

ARREST 150 NEGRO HOBOES

Pittsburg Police Make Clean-Up of Suspicious Characters.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 11.—In a raid early today the police of Sharpsville, Pa., arrested the negroes who have been living about the coke ovens. All were discharged at a hearing later and ordered to leave town without ado, when they boarded, pending an investigation of their records in Pittsburg and elsewhere. According to the Brownsville authorities, the negroes are not desirable citizens, but they claim that there is no unusual wholesale arrests of negroes on account of the many assaults against white women.

Blanche Walsh May Retire.

WAUSAU CITY, Feb. 11.—In all probability Blanche Walsh, who is confined at the University Hospital in this city suffering with a severe attack of stomach trouble, will not go back on the stage this season. Physicians at the hospital say that she will be confined to her bed for three or six weeks longer. The members of Miss Walsh's company left for New York today. Miss Walsh's St. Louis and Kansas City engagements have been cancelled and it is stated that no definite arrangements have been considered for future dates.

ENLIVENED BY TILT

Macon and Cook Relieve Tedium of House Debate.

'POSSUM TO BE PRESERVED

Georgian Adds Touch of Humor With Negro Dialogue—Increase of Naturalization Fee Causes a Storm of Protest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The satisfactory appropriation bill bill passed by the House today, practically as it came from the committee. The debate dragged interminably on for several hours, when the proceedings were enlivened by a brief but spirited tilt between Macon (Ark.) and Cook (Ill.).

During the debate on the agricultural appropriation bill Bartlett of Georgia suggested that some provision should be made for the preservation of the 'possum and provoked the House to laughter by reading a humorous dialogue between Senator Heyburn and Senator Bailey, contained their Bob's recent "possum dinner in Atlanta on the ground that 'possum was not a white man's dish.

Every increase in salary provided for in the bill was withdrawn out on the objection of Macon (Ark.).

An extended fight led by Shattuck (Ill.) was made against the Senate amendment to the bill amending the naturalization laws, which, among other things, increased the naturalization fee from $1 to $2. Mr. Shattuck openly charged that the proposed increased fee was simply an attempt to get more money in the pockets of clerks of courts. By an emphatic vote the conference report was rejected and the bill laid on the table.

The House then adjourned until Friday at 12 o'clock noon.

GARFIELD TALKS TO SOLONS

Explains Scope and Workings of Bureau of Corporations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A comprehensive review of the work of the Bureau of Corporations was given the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce today by Commissioner Garfield.

Mr. Garfield said that in the constitution of the big irrigation plants every attempt had been made so to construct them that the cost of water from year to year will be as small as possible, and the government will not be a party to any scheme for the acquisition of land by the Federal Government in the development of arid lands. He gave the committee some suggestions as to the future conduct of the reclamation service.

"There should be no relaxation of the requirement that the money expended on those lands must be returned to the Government, and there should be no privilege granted for the purchasement of the first payments," he said, "at time when the money is due. Provision can be made in case of the projects not meeting requests for an extension of time have been made. If payments are to be postponed or payments entirely abandoned, there will not long be a reclamation fund. The Secretary approved in unqualified terms the water rental system, declaring that they are absolutely necessary in the interest of intelligent and economic irrigation plant. He favored the small-tract farm unit in reclamation.

GALLINGER SPOTS TROUBLE

Says 20,000-Ton Battleships Can Only Find Two Docks.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Senator Gallinger, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, in opening the discussion this morning United States navy yards and stations" in the debate on the naval appropriation bill, declared that the Navy Department has only two docks in the country capable of taking the 20,000-ton battleships which are being planned for the future navy. Senator Gallinger also declared that the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. H., should be abandoned as a navy yard, and that it should be made a receiving station for enlisted men.

Senator Gallinger's declaration takes effect from Secretary Metcalf's report, in which he says that the Puget Sound navy yard is capable of accommodating the largest battleships now in existence or projected. He favored the small-tract farm unit in reclamation.

SENATE COMMITTEE HAS WAY

Decides Repeal of Salary Increase Will Fix Knox Tangle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Senator Root is declared by the Senate committee on judiciary to be clearly entitled to pay as the office of Secretary of State, according to the decision of the committee today. Senator Root drew $8000 a year, which was the salary prior to the action of Congress in increasing the Secretary of State's present term of office.

The action of the committee yesterday sidetracks the bill introduced yesterday by Senator Knox, providing for the repeal that a night be regarded as a holiday and a technical violation of the constitutional provision against increasing the compensation of theretofore positions for members of Congress during the term for which they were elected. The bill introduced by Knox, which was to repeal the increase of salaries of the Secretary of State, was referred to Secretary of State, was found. The phraseology, however, was unfortunate, and it was decided to draft a new bill. Senator Knox will be associated with the views of the committee, and the word "emolument" instead of "salary" in order to be in harmony with the language of the Constitution.

It developed during discussion that the Senate committee is prepared to report favorably on the question whether it would be possible to repeal the salary increase provision as to make Senator Knox eligible for the office. Senators Hitchcock and Overman seemed to be in some doubt as to the propriety of taking the action, but they will not make a minority report, and it is probable that the question of the passage of the bill when it comes upon the Senate calendar.

Prescribe Form of Electoral Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Half of the House vote of the 21st Congress today continued to Congressional proceedings of the formal counting of the vote of the states. The duration of the recess will result in a movement to have Congress remain in session for a few days after the various states.

The House probably will introduce a bill today to prescribe the proper oath form.

It is argued that the passage of such a law might avoid the necessity of throwing the vote of any state into dispute, as was noted period when such action might be necessary.

Half Million for Hospital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The Senate committee on public buildings and grounds today reported favorably the bill appropriating $500,000 for the construction of a new hospital in San Francisco. The committee reported an amendment to the sundry civil bill to provide for the construction of a light station on Mount Tamalpais, in Marin county, California.

House Favors Sandoval.

Bills Payable Were Scaled Down $ Million, and Bills Receivable Were Seeked Up Enormously.

Booth & Company, testifying under oath at the hearing before a master in chancery in the bankruptcy of the company were presently read, but that in a statement presented in 1907 to the Commercial National Bank, the Corn Exchange National Bank and the Continental National Bank, the bills payable by the firm were scaled down $1,000,000, and the bills receivable increased by about the same amount, a difference of about $2,000,000 in all. POSED AS WOMAN TO ROB

Youth Plies With Gay Men and Then Goes Through Them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—James Daly, a slender youth who wears rouge and uses a lavender, N. Y., while masquerading in women's clothes, robbed Frank Bonin, a Canadian, of $1000 in a hotel room here four nights and fifteen with one to come that he might rob them. He was captured after conversing with a detective, who became suspicious that his companions was not a woman, and later served his theory by tearing off Daly's wig.

"My reason for masquerading," he told the police, "was that I needed money, and found that by dressing it seemed simple. I could mix freely in crowds. After being wined and dined by men I found it easy to take all they had with them. I got into a car, ran away with a taximeter, and by this means and sleight of hand, I usually got the money."

SECRET SERVICE FUND IS AMPLE

Senate Committee Says No Cause Existed for Roosevelt's Attack.

MORE MONEY EACH YEAR

Hemenway Says Inspectors Still Available to Ferret Out Crime and Appropriation Not All Used This Year.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A report was made to the Senate today from the committee on appropriations relative to the President's statements concerning the attitude of Congress toward the secret service of the Secretary of the Treasury. The report, which is very brief, added that the President was not justified in publishing the statement contained in his message to Congress. The subject was investigated by a special Senate committee, which reported that no abuses appeared to have happened to the action of Congress in limiting the operations of the Secret Service.

Secret Service Fund Gross.

Discussing the report in a speech on the Senate floor, Hemenway said that the appropriations for the Secret Service began with $500 in 1865, and had been increased from time to time until for the fiscal year 1908 the appropriation was $378,000, which included a regular employment for about 125 men.

The report says the limitation in the bill preventing transfer or detail of the Secret Service of the Treasury Department "in no way affects any portion of the Secret Service now employed in the Government service, the only effect being to exempt the 25 men employed in the Secret Service division of the Treasury Department. Certainly Congress has furnished the Executive Department with ample funds at all times for the detection and prevention of crime.

Goodly Balance Remains.

Hemenway said that the Department of Justice had every dollar of the appropriment of deficiencies in forwarding out the Secret Service men, and that a goodly balance was left, ahead of the deficits of $30,000 made to investigate affrauds.

The debate, under unanimous consent, was participated in by Senators Hemenway of Ohio, who desired to begin discussion of the novel appropriation bill, but before other business intervened, he had also passed a resolution to the exact form in which it had been passed by the House, providing $250,000 for the Census Bureau. Senator Dillingham, Republican, of Vermont, and Senator Daniel, Democrat, of Virginia, had spoken in the afternoon in favor of the retention of the bureau of Census.

A fifth was passed increasing the increase in the salary of the secretary of the Senate from $4000 to $5000, and increasing the salaries of the assistant secretaries of the Senate.

McLaurin made a speech in opposition to the passage of any bill for the retention of the Census Bureau, and Hemenway replied in behalf of the bill for $500 or $1000 a month.

MAY WHEAT REACHES $1.13

ers reckon New Yorkers who had followed the advice of most of the experts to sell wheat on the high price, have been badly caught and the outcome is not yet definite, as they viewed it. The big Eastern holders of wheat have through fighting for their accounts and with their power knows that they have not been making any vigorous liquidating operations in the market recently. They have been content to think that if Patten forces the bears to settle above a legitimate level, the market will be in condition to withstand any attempts at depressions, and that the bullish supply of wheat will become visible at a high premium value.

The bigger wheat was the reasons for the bull's wheat account, Patten would already be counting his winnings and profit. Prominence for red Winter is particularly high.

Patten has much opposition among the local traders, but those whom views are not known are inclined to be long and fair the views as appear also to be bullish.

About 60 per cent of the local wheat traders are bears, but a very decided effort which has been made recently to force a break in prices has met with failure. Many of the bears have been caught in the strong rebounds in the market when over the sales put their shortages in the wheat.

WOULD HAVE $1.25 MINIMUM

American Society of Equity Would Help Wheatgrowers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Declaring that a farmer should receive as much profit on his holdings as the manufacturer or the merchant, and that the minimum price of wheat to the farm should be $1.25 a bushel, the American Society of Equity has transmitted a paper to Congress showing the cost of the farm materials and machinery and the amount of capital which it is necessary for a farmer to invest before beginning the raising of wheat.

The figures which were compiled from the books of a Northwestern farmer in the Red River Valley and which have been certified by expert accountants, place the cost of producing wheat at $1.02 1-10 per bushel.

Records Go to Gothens.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The highest price of the season for May wheat was reached in the Produce Exchange today, when that option sold at 1.17½ per bushel.

A scarcity of cash wheat, good export demand, higher foreign markets and the strong position of the Chicago May option were the principal factors in the advance. Two cargo months, sold strong, were not so buoyant as the May delivery.

TELLS OF ROAD CONGRESS

LEADING MEN WILL SPEAK AT SEATTLE, SAYS HILL.

Pioneer in Highway Improvement Reviews Best Methods Gained by Long Experience.

Samuel Hill, of Seattle, who has given attention to good roads movements and the study of best methods for their construction for years, is coming to Portland on a short visit. Mr. Hill is president of the Good Roads Congress of road builders to be held in Seattle July 4-7. It is the only building in the world devoted to good roads discussion.

Mr. Hill said that he had visited most of the Eastern States and had studied with the good live men making an earnest effort in the Middle States and secured promises from leading men to attend a mammoth get-acquainted meeting at the coming Congress, at which representatives from Canada and Mexico also are expected to be present. Governors of the Western States will be invited to be present to further the standardization of road-building methods and practices in operation in the several states.

Samuel Hill has been recognized on the Pacific Coast as the leading authority on road building since the Chicago Congress of Seattle, and President Taft has made a most complimentary remark concerning the work of Mr. Hill as chairman of the Highways Committee of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, when a third each examination of methods in use in the United States and Europe was made and the good live roads engineers in the country secured a most complete collection of its kind in this country. Duplicates were sent to all other parts of the United States.

Mr. Hill has a considerable interest in the improvement of convict labor in the construction of roads. With Mississippi convicts, he says, the very best results are obtained. The most encouraging part is besides the convicts when they shall have worked their time, they themselves will leave with a trade that will give them a good living in the open country.

Mr. Hill has a broader scope on the importance of educational methods to the end that the people in communities as to property supervise road building. Money will be spent wisely when the people understand and are educated to use highway manner in order to produce results. It can be so expended only when those who have charge of the disbursement know what constitutes a good road, and when it may have $1,000,000 and desire to do the best possible with it, but if they do not know, cannot make a good job with it. But it can employ expert watchmen, and the people will compel it to be "on the desired," said Mr. Hill, by way of illustration.

One of the subjects that has taken much of Mr. Hill's attention is studying the relative cost of good and bad that of relative cost of transportation paid by the ultimate consumer of the country. From data carefully collected he finds that the cost of moving a ton of freight a mile from farm to the consumer does not in a safe against a trifle over 1 cent by rail a mile. With great difference in attributable to the bad roadways of the country and the poor practices in handling its wagon roads.

The student of good roads is firm in his opinion that the country is going to spend money in the improvement of roads by the same way that some municipalities should be enlisted to be followed. He says that the best results will be had if the methods are produced from the high way engineering departments the expert knowledge will be available to state and county authorities.

SPEAKS FOR NEW CHARTER

Dr. C. H. Chapman Supports It at East Side Meeting.

Under the auspices of the United East Side Push Club in Stark Athlon last night, Dr. C. H. Chapman, representing the Charter Board, reviewed the work of the Board and explained the provisions of the new charter. Dr. Chapman made a strong plea for a rally in the minority precinct stronghold in favor of the charter. He said he had no interest on the street that the City Council would attempt to defeat the charter to a vote of the people, and that he was sure that the people would endorse what it contained.

In speaking of the new plan, Dr. Chapman declared that he did not recommend that had been used in Des Moines, Salt Lake City and Galveston, but that the commission form of government had been adopted the power of the city government to do needful things, and that it would be done under the present city government.

The meeting was well attended, and the speaker was given a hearty reception. Addresses in favor of the charter were also had the printed proofs of the charter, which were examined at the meeting. Other similar meetings will be arranged for in different parts of the city soon.

CHURCH OFFICER TAKES OWN LIFE

Leaving Shortage in Funds and Charge of Blackmail, Allan Depue Dies.

LETTER HINTS AT MYSTERY

Failing to Make Good Shortage, He Breathes Gas—Blackmailed Since Boyhood, He Implies Charge Against His Own Station.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—A gas-filled room in the rear of the residence of Allan Depue has been found to contain a letter of farewell written on the back of a map of the State, which rests on the wall, and which was the closing scene of the life of Allan Depue, who, according to the police, committed suicide by gas route as a result of a letter received by him from an unknown blackmailer.

Blackmailed From Boyhood.

Depue had been financial secretary of the Independent Church of Englewood. It was found after his death that he had been systematically blackmailed since his boyhood, but he never told her the details.

Recently the trustees of the church noticed that Depue's accounts were in a muddled condition. After investigation he was removed. Depue promised to return the money but failed. He left his home last night and his body was found by the janitor of the church, just as the morning prayers assembled.

In his letter Depue wrote:

Leaves Enigmatic Letter.

"I am going through an ordeal before that none of you know, and I hope you never will. I am the slave of others and am sacrificing a life today that has been a burden to me for years. I have not the moral courage to tell my friends, and be present to you that which I promised, but I think it will be better for me that I will be unshackled. There are those who will be glad that I am gone, and on the ground that I do not know how I have done my duty in every respect.

"You can address Mrs. J. B. Lyman, 35 Washington Square, Salem, Maine, and Mrs. Ida Wilson, 7 Nelson Pl., that they are installing regular payments to me. I am not responsible to any society, Church, Club, or give it to the Chicago School of Surgery."

HONOR IS PAID UNIONISTS

In 1861 it was a matter of pride that on August 29 the Lincoln farm was to be sold because it was the only piece of property in overything else of any value that was not the highest bidder." Robert J. Collier of New York was the successful purchaser for the property and despatched Richard Lloyd Jones to Kentucky with instructions to buy the place if possible.

Jones found the farm owned by Moses Shipley and a tract of 110 acres under cultivation. The cultivation of the uncultivated portion of the farm was left to Shipley, and he and his family lived in the house on the farm.

Jones returned to Kentucky and began negotiations with Shipley for the purchase of the farm. Shipley refused to sell, but finally agreed to lease the farm for a year.

HARPER OPPONENTS LACK CANDIDATE

Recall Signatures Plentiful in Los Angeles, but Mayor-alty Timber Scarce.

LIBEL SUIT THREATENED

Mayor Wants Vengeance on Grand Jury Minority, Which Brought Serious Charges—Nominating Meeting Today.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—The shocking of his name at the election petition filed Tuesday by the Municipal League to recall Mayor A. C. Harper, is proceeding rapidly under the direction of the City Clerk, a force of 24 men now employed additional each day. From the rate of progress, the petition will be submitted to the City Council Tuesday, February 16, at which time the election date will probably be set.

There are 10,846 names on the petition, and as 75 per cent of the votes cast at the last election for Mayor are required, that of the mayor should be certified. The rebellion will have about 1000 to spare, but the majority of error in their favor is considered necessary, as the requirement is somewhat embarrassed by the failure, in the case of the recallists to put forth a strong candidate against Mayor Harper, who purposes to stand for re-election. Since the failure of Judge Wilbur to accept a nomination last Saturday on account of his wife's ill health, the recallists have been at sea for a likely candidate. A mass meeting will be held tonight at which it is expected Judge Lucien Shaw, brother of the Supreme Justice Erskine Ross, ex-Surgeon Judge Walter L. Bragg and Sydney A. Bailey, ex-chairman of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, are all mentioned gossip of late, and the choice may fall upon one of these men.

Grand Jury Reports Conflict.

The question of the recall of Mayor Harper has been further complicated by conflicting reports from the Grand Jury made yesterday. The majority of the Grand Jury, which has been in session for four months, has granted the libelous charges of graft and life office strength to sell oil and stand stock and caused lots of protection, while saying that return is now on and there is no reason for the recall. The minority have sustained a minority report, which the Presiding Judge refused to accept, presenting charges of graft determined by the grand jury, but omitted by the majority report. Mayor Harper has issued a card making charges upon which the recall fight is being made. Mayor Harper is used a statement last night, threatening to sue the six signers for criminal libel.

Injunction Talked Of.

A report was current tonight that injunction proceedings would be instituted to prevent the election from being held on the ground that the petition presented Mayor Harper of property rights without due process of law and that the right to recall is denied by the Home Rule charter. It is said that the Municipal League will not vote the people, believing that it has nothing to fear.

Mayor Has Much at Stake.

Mayor Harper has much at stake. His personal reputation is at stake, and he has a right to defend himself against charges of office and the remaining eight months or so of his term are on trial.

The principal charge against Mayor Harper which the city's electors, as both the Municipal League and the Times are agog at the approaching election, are that he has abused his appointive power by placing in office men who have no political reasons save unit to occupy positions of trust and profit.

That the Municipal League is the force of Public Welfare is by sending control of the Owens River municipal water project with the expenditure of nearly $3,000,000 of the $1,500,000 bonds voted for the construction.

That his appointment to the Board of Works of Edward Kern, ex-Chief of Police, who voted when Councilman to sell the elevated franchise, and who while he was proved himself a corporation man, is the strongest proof of his existence for Municipal ownership.

That in failing to use his police power to enforce the law and ordinances of the city regarding liquor traffic and the social evil, he has protected vice.

That he has used, or permitted to be used, the police force to spy upon citizens prior to the promotion of many and other corporations in which he held stock by the use of which among other things and interests which the Police Commissioners, which he appointed, he has caused to be organized and control.

Harper Makes Denial.

To the charges Mayor Harper has issued these words in a statement in part as written by himself:

"I am charged with all the vehemence of my soul the first charge of ignorance, vice or of neglected or other grafting.

As to the charges as to my connection with big sugar concern, to say that the charge were unfounded, that not even one more cent stock in the company, than the amount necessary to qualify as a director was ever given or offered to me.

As to Kern's appointment, it is charged that Kern has been elected repeatedly by the people to public life for many years, and has "made good" to the satisfaction of the electorate.

Mayor Harper attributes the present movement to the disappointment of certain prominent men who have failed to obtain from his appointments and appointments of boards and commissions, and control in positions which seem to the final decision rests brought by him against the Legislature.

Battle Lines Drawn.

The battle lines already have been drawn, and the fight is on in earnest, which both individuals and organizations have entered.

Opposed to the Mayor are practically the Municipal League, leader of the recall movement; the Times' League, the Good Club and the Citizens' Federation. The Municipal League has issued a call for the Liberal Alliance, a political organization, an association of the Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Prohibition parties for the Mayor. Friends are to be sent to various parts of the city to work for the campaign. Mayor Harper is ready for it.

Of the six newspapers in the Times, by opposing the recall, is for the Mayor. The Express and Herald are for the recall and Examiner have but little opinion left and the News and Record, the Socialist and Kern's organization, incline to the recall.

The difficulty of ascertaining where the independent voter stands has made the election eleventh hour chary of attempting to forecast the result. The reaction in favor of the Mayor, which set in last week, has been set off somewhat by the recent charter amendment election, at which the people, by a large majority, rejected the proposal to abolish the civil service, and to agree of machine and other opposition to carrying such amendments as the one for direct nomination and Commissioner-at-Large.

Recall Long Agitated.

The recall of Mayor Harper was advanced as a result of the political attempts to appoint Joseph Scott, supervisor of the Twenty-first district, a member of the Board of Public Works. Mayor Harper challenged the threatening situation by appointing Lieutenant-Governor John M. Chaffee the former head of the United States Secret Service, and turned the management of failing to reappoint Anderson to the finance and integrity of Chaffee was not to be questioned.

The charges of graft, of vice raids by an evening paper, and by the then City Attorney Lindley, followed. The Mayor's friends and the subsequent investigation by the grand jury, have kept Mayor Harper and his political associates in the limelight for nearly a year, but it was not until Fred A. Eggleston, a member of the Police Commissioners previously appointed by the Mayor, was summarily dismissed in the matter of graft charges, but his deliberate appointment of Kern caused the storm upon him.

A call was issued January 17, exactly 30 days after Kern's appointment was confirmed by the Council, by the Municipal League, composed of "active, public-spirited citizens," and stating, without reference to the charges of graft, that "the Mayor has taken with respect to our city government, and has failed to perform his duty as a citizen and the benefits of our city as home and abroad." The call was signed by 1000 citizens, and to 100 prominent citizens, regardless of political affiliations, for a larger representation was sent.

"We have called for what they praise: I have no objections."

At the "meeting extraordinary," 101 of the 150 to whom email had been sent were present. By a vote of 377 to 1 the municipal league was formed, and by a unanimous vote of 100 to 0 Mayor Harper's light did not vote. J. J. Byrne, of the Santa Fe, cast the sole negative vote.

The Church Federation adopted resolutions January 31 indicating the recall and the Municipal League, which was formed a week ago Tuesday, adopted resolutions:

"The schooling of one boy or one girl by the corruption of Harper practices that have flourished under the protection of his administration is a crime more serious than the entire Owens River question involved in the charges that may be in the air."

Harper's Friends Busy.

In the meantime Mayor Harper's friends and the machine organized to form a "literary" though their government league, which was formed to "promote the welfare of the people," and "to secure the selection of the wisest men."

Mayor Harper attributes the present movement to the disappointment of certain prominent men who have failed to obtain from his appointments and appointments of boards and commissions, and control in positions which seem to the final decision rests brought by him against the Legislature.

The battle lines already have been drawn, and the fight is on in earnest, which both individuals and organizations have entered.

Opposed to the Mayor are practically the Municipal League, leader of the recall movement; the Times' League, the Good Club and the Citizens' Federation. The Municipal League has issued a call for the Liberal Alliance, a political organization, an association of the Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Prohibition parties for the Mayor. Friends are to be sent to various parts of the city to work for the campaign. Mayor Harper is ready for it.

Of the six newspapers in the Times, by opposing the recall, is for the Mayor. The Express and Herald are for the recall and Examiner have but little opinion left and the News and Record, the Socialist and Kern's organization, incline to the recall.

The difficulty of ascertaining where the independent voter stands has made the election eleventh hour chary of attempting to forecast the result. The reaction in

TRIO BREAK JAIL

Three Prisoners Escape From Hillsboro Bastile.

SHERIFF IS IN PURSUIT

Escapes Believed to Have Headed for Mountains Toward Astoria.

Men Dig Through Brick Wall to Freedom.

HILLSBORO Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—By removing bricks from the corridor wall, three prisoners escaped from Washington County Jail, in this city, shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. Sheriff Hancock is arranging a posse to pursuit, believing the men have headed for the mountains toward Astoria.

The jail had served men to the four prisoners in the jail, and, returning to a few minutes, found three of the men gone. The fourth, John Brooks, accused of larceny of $20, was confined in a cell. The trio who escaped are Charles Burnham, an ex-cripple of Tigardville, sentenced to four months in jail for stealing chickens; Ernest Hall, of Forest Post, awaiting trial on a charge of stealing from a store at Forest Grove Summer. The young men had been in jail about a week.

The jail from which three men escaped is the building which held Walter Johnson, who was hanged at Salem last February for the murder of Elmer Perdue. Johnson's body was taken to the undertaking parlor one door from the scene of Perdue's murder.

The walls of the building are of brick, but the prisoners, who had been allowed the freedom of the corridors, worked loose several of the bricks and it was an easy matter to make an opening sufficient for the exit to permit escape of the prisoners.

LITTLE GRAIN HELD

Supply at Lewiston Is Largest in Northwest.

80,000 SACKS IN PALOUSE

Greater Part of Wheat Not Disposed Of for Spring Seeding Already Sold to Portland and Tacoma Millers.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Although the bulk of the grain crop has been sold, one of the largest quantities of the kind Empire show that the wheat available to supply the Spring trade is small, the necessary portion for spring seeding having been disposed of and the remainder sold to the millers at Portland and Tacoma.

Pullman and Lewiston farmers are, according to reports, the sole growers who have held options on large quantities of the grain stored in warehouses there, and the amount in Pullman is at least from 75,000 to 80,000 sacks, and Lewiston and approximately 40,000 sacks are considerable amount in the Palouse country. It is not probable that dollar will be offered for the grain, and it will be at dollar before the year end.

Walla Walla farmers have disposed of almost all of last year's crop and the amount held elsewhere in the Inland Empire is considered of little consequence. Ritzville, Pendleton, Farmers of Central and Eastern Washington, Northern and Central Idaho and Northeastern Oregon reported by telegraph Sunday, January 30, show the following figures estimating the available supply of wheat in each city, the first figure given wheat and the third the price quoted for Club wheat:

Ritzville	60,000	$ .82
Walla Walla	40,000	.82
Pendleton	30,000	.82
Lewiston, Pullman	75,000	.82

Leads Boast of Their Bold Work as Highway Robbers.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Six holdups and the arrest of two of the highway men in Eugene, all within three weeks last night. TO CUT LEWISTON RATES

Dorsey B. Smith Meets Business Men of Idaho City and Gives Promise of Lower Rates if Given Business.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Dorsey B. Smith, general manager of the Owen River Transportation Company, arrived here from Portland last night, the object of his visit being the establishing of a direct boat service between Lewiston and Lewiston, and the securing of business for this transportation. Mr. Smith is the guest of the open river committee of the Commercial Club, and on arrival here met at lunch a large number of the business men of the city, who discussed the features of the new service in detail.

Mr. Smith's remarks were brief as soon as the stage of water is favorable, the first boat will be put on and the business from the shippers to assure a steady service.

On route to Lewiston Mr. Smith stopped at Riparia and found that the steamer Inland Empire is ready for service, and that the "Belle Falls" which is ready for duty at Celilo. Mr. Celilo also for Lewiston. Mr. Smith investigated the Celilo canal and found that the engineering an engineering staff in charge of interruptions concerning the work could be completed in three years.

"With the canal completed," continued Mr. Smith, "there will be no important railroad will pass Lewiston that will not be glad to secure the freight for the Columbia river. The steamboat company has been in transferring to and from the cars at Celilo, and has reduced the rate paid to the Dalles of Oregon from 75 cents to 50 cents per ton. This is only a beginning. Whatever more of what can be done, we make a delivery of the rate freight of 50 cents, and the freight starting was $160. Somewhat more than that, but the average cost of freight our rate to Lewiston will be 50 cents per ton. The steamboat company will be in Lewiston will derive from the service."

Tale of Plans Causes Sensation in Mount Vernon Court, and Prisoner Causes Informer.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Feb. 11.—A sensation was sprung in the Superior Court at Mount Vernon, says a sensation was sprung in the Superior Court at Mount Vernon, says a dispatch to the Herald, when the alleged kidnaper of Ed English, a missing lumberman from the Sauk County Court, when Fred Wheeler, a former deputy sheriff, and Frank Bemmer confided to him a plot to murder Sheriff Sailor and to effect the escape of Prisoner Bemmer in an easy jury to prosecute, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption. After about a month I became so weak and run down that I could hardly get up to bed where I stayed for three months. I had a doctor to see me, but he did not help me. I then tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got a bottle. After several bottles I didn't have such a headache and there was always a pain in my stomach. It seemed as though I had a weight on me all the time but couldn't eat anything. I was discouraged, but my wife had tried a great deal in weight.

"I tried several medicines with no help and was under a doctor's care but got no relief. Many of my neighbors told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began them at once. AFTER-EFFECTS OF THE GRIP

This Elkhart Woman's Experience Is of Value to Those Who Still Suffer.

The danger from grip is seldom over when the immediate symptoms, the fever, the catarrh, the headaches and the prostration of spring days away. The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, shattered digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition which makes it an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do it. F. H. PRESSURE USED TO GET OPTION VOTE

Friends of MacMaster Bill in Desperate Need of Two More Supporters.

STEWART JOINS CAUSE

After Sounding Sentiment in Cowlitz County, He Goes Over to the Stalwarts—Threats Made to Kill Pet Bills.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Also to muster in votes for the Patterson-MacMaster local option bill, which failed to pass the House last night, the Anti-Saloon League resorted to the most startling today and bringing to bear every pressure possible to obtain the necessary two votes to carry the bill through the Upper House.

The history on the bill in the Senate is that it has been there for a week, and it never had more than one to the judiciary committee after it had been reported favorably by a majority of the public morals committee. The motion to refer the bill to the committee of 22 to 19 was carried mainly on Roberts of Pierce, being classed as an opponent of measures of this kind.

The supporters of the bill have gained one of the 21 votes in the Senate, and this, after guarding the sentiment in his county, Senator Stewart declares to be strongly local option instead of the bill.

As an illustration of the pressure being brought to bear, local optionists have received telegrams from Cle Elum already passed by the Senate in favor of Senator D. R. McMaster. This bill appropriates about $2,000 to repay to the purchaser price paid the state for the Cle Elum tract. The bill was passed by the Senate without a dissenting vote, and with no debate, and for the sole purpose of improvements.

The supporters of the bill, which has a strong following, are apparently willing to pay also to grant certain concessions to the liquor interests, and the friends of Speaker Reed are willing to meet the objections to the bill now before the House by adding the word "not" to the bill, so it slightly modified form. Reed, Senator Stewart and Senator Thorpe are three of the members of the committee of the judiciary committee yesterday on a substitute for the Patterson bill. The bill is said to be more liberal than the present law, and it is said that there will be considerable opposition to it. The bill imposes prohibition outside of incorporated towns and provides a significant local option in towns and cities with the vote based on a majority of votes cast.

Wide the House bill has almost a sufficient majority to support it, it will go through conservative opinion here to be said that it will not be passed as it is. It would be necessary to change it, and perhaps the bill would be changed to commend to a local election.

The Senate will be called to order in the public morals committee room in the Senate today and will be included in the special session. This morning, when a local option bill will be considered.

It is understood that the Senate committee will report favorably on the Patterson bill in the public morals committee this morning, when a local option bill will be considered by the committee.

Senator Stewart, whose reference with the Patterson bill in the judiciary committee, has come out and said he was coming out as supporters of the bill are Anderson, Bankhead, Bell, Brown, Dye, Hall, Mitchell, Cox, Davis, Falconer, Fithian, Gallagher, Hutchinson, Jones, Kelly, Lewis, Meyers, Parkhurst, Peters, Reynolds.

GREAT POWER GIVEN STATE

Bill in Washington Gives Control Over Telephone and Telegraph.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—An exciting contest over the proposed bill to commission and give supervision by the Railroad Commission to telegraph companies was on in the House all afternoon, and a bill approved by the committee on railroads, which gives the Railroad Commission the same power over companies as the Legislature Monday. The Commission, should the bill pass and the proposed act, will be empowered to fix rates, supervise the service and to make such rules as it may deem necessary. The principal contentions between competing companies were over the restriction that can or more lines in the same city. The Commission will be empowered to fix the Commission shall fix an exchange for the telephone companies, and the Commission should have the same power.

In another bill the present power of the Railroad Commission are further broadened, so that it may in its discretion order a physical connection of a railroad with any or new railroads entering a city.

By a majority of 4 the House of Representatives of the District of Georgia, which may be interpreted as meaning that the maximum railroad rate as fixed by law, which is now 2 cents per mile, may be raised to 2½ cents. Other amendments which have been embraced in the bill specifically raise certain maximum rates which are now in force passed by the Washington Legislature.

The exact question to be voted upon is as follows: "Shall the said bond question of the town of Cle Elum be submitted to the legislature by the commissioners act of 1907, with the exception of the limit of the bonded indebtedness of the town to 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property therein, but not to exceed 5 cents per mile, but does not apply specifically under the terms of this act."

The principal other act specifically referred to in the act of March 28, 1907, fixing as the maximum rates 3½ rules per mile for passenger fare. Amendments to this act are also included in the bill passed, the new bill passed, the commission will be empowered with the fullest rules making power possible, extending also to railroads of less than 100 miles in length.

Such bills will be introduced as commission powers but without supervision. This is executed to develop against the commission's power to fix rates, provided as to that portion prohibiting the commission to interfere with connections between competing lines.

STORY GIVES BAKER, FITS

Theatrical Manager Never Thought of Bankrupting His Company.

George L. Baker has heard of Marshfield, Or. He knew it's on the coast in Oregon, but when it comes to finding out where it is on the map, he confesses he ever heard of Marshfield or J. W. Bailey, who writes himself as the manager of the Masonic Opera-House. Manager Bailey may be preparing to perform a miracle. He surely will if he has any idea of making the Baker Company to Marshfield at the end of its Portland season.

Yesterday morning, when the big genial man-mountain of the Baker company got the telegram proposing that his theatrical company, who, greater point and the billboards, were going to go to Coos Bay, there was an almerahere distinguishes that means a low pressure for one moment.

A flattering scene of righteous indignation. Mr. Baker had might denied most emphatically that he had any intention of closing the Baker company in April. On the contrary, it is his intention to keep the company on the boards at the Baker Theater for the entire season of the Baker. If not stay straight through the season.

"It was under the impression that the man who performed myste feats of the supernatural had died several countries ago," said Baker. "I never heard of this Marshfield, and I don't want to hear of it any dead way. I have never talked with him about sending the Baker company to Marshfield or any where else this Summer, Spring or Fall. This opinion starts about as much foundation as a Spring poet's dream of a beautiful bird's nest. And—say Marshfield! If there is any such place I pay attention on my post to play the company somewhere else. It runs counter to all the laws of theatrical economy. I don't run this to after Marshfield. I don't want to go to Marshfield, Oregon, or Coos Bay, or any other business reasons. If I were to transfer the Baker Company anywhere, it would be to the many larger cities that have made me offers."

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE.

CORINNE, Utah., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Infant prodigy and all that sort of thing, Lola Fisher, who plays "Lola from Berlin," one of the newest and handsomest of the Heilig offerings, at that place has done very well in the big cities she has appeared in, and will be welcomed for past performances. It makes a very pretty picture, and the part is one that will please any audience which is not particular in anything.

There are three acts, the first act part of the Stanwood home, the second in the Wells home, and the third in the office of Mr. McNulty with the lights and music of Broadway. Lola, who comes to the Stanwoods, she sings and lyrics during the first act. Further on in the piece she is discovered her sister have the role of a Broadway singer, and she is given a chance to display her voice and wins the audience even in a good time and sends them straight home to dream of wonderfully interesting. What Lola does with the rest of the piece is interesting, and her debut the midst of the three acts of the piece is a surprise to the audience and to the characters.

The star is the songs merry, mirthprovoking and sentimental, and she is decidedly favorite to the public through her charming personality and her ability to please. Her power—especially and laugh her infectious laugh most completely. Her voice is a pleasing soprano, and her bewitching singing the Mercury stage is a delight to the ear. Her support is excellent, and the scenic effects are beautiful. Miss Blanche Douglas as Mrs. Stanwood, Jessie Ralph, Trust Rosslyn and Allen Pish are the star a close second.

The production is typical rough crashness, has a song, "Goodbye, Mr. Dingbat," that is a winner, and the chorus is a pleasing one. The specialties are clever, and Mr. "Under Dee London," is delightfully funny.

The supporting cast is sufficient to the star's needs, and the piece is well staged. It will help to have a pleasing evening well and the audience will be pleased with the entertainment. It is an entertainment of merit and will be welcomed by the people of Corinne. Tonight and tomorrow matinee is the last week before the Heilig will be closed for the season.

CHALLENGE IS OUT

Lincoln High School, Seattle, After Hill Academy.

TRACK MEET IS PROPOSED

Second Institution Wants to Clear Itself of Charge of Cold Feet Growing Out of Refusal of Football Game.

The Lincoln High School, of Seattle, which organized a track league of seven for with the Hill Military Academy footfor ball team during the past season, is now anxious to meet Hill and the other institutions in the league in a field meet in connection with the coming Spring.

The Portland institutions have not yet taken up the matter, but from time to time approaches when this sport will take their attention. Only recently the Portland Interscholastic League elected a representative on the athletic path this season, and such a movement is afoot in the Seattle town.

Lincoln High, the pioneers of the league will be back in the new lineup, and the challenge of the Seattle school will be definitely considered at that time which. It is also probable that a definite date for the Spring meet will be set at that time, with Seattle's claim for the first date to be filed upon.

The challenge from the Seattle team which was written by Manager Chester Anderson of the Lincoln track team, reads thus in as follows:

"We, the undersigned, desire the Portland Interscholastic League, hereby by coming to the above conclusion that has existed between the Lincoln High School and Hill Military Academy, and in order to clear from the former of the Lincoln High to the charge of cowardice, we, the Lincoln High School, challenge Hill Military Academy between the two schools. In order to make this meet a success, we suggest that it be held on the Multnomah Athletic Club track, having the floor and track laid are ready for the meet. We suggest that the meet be held on the Saturday following the football season is practically over and just before the Spring vacation.

"We suggest that the events be as follows: 50-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, 1 mile run, 2 mile run, 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles, running high jump, running broad jump, pole vault, shot put, hammer throw, relay race, 1 mile relay race.

"We suggest that the officers of the league be as follows: Referee, Chester Anderson; starter, Lincoln; judges of finish, Lincoln and Hill; clerk of course, Lincoln; scorer, Lincoln; timers, Lincoln and Hill; judges of field events, Lincoln and Hill; measurers, Lincoln and Hill; announcer, Lincoln.

"We suggest that the meet be held on the Multnomah Athletic Club track, and that the date be set later by the league."

CHESTER ANDERSON,
Manager Lincoln High School.

Who will accept the challenge is a serious result arises the athletes of Coach Bezdek's football squad, who have had regular training for the past games. Some of the members of the football squad have not as yet signed up with the Portland Interscholastic League. Jones spent a week in the football camp, and although he has not been in this sport on a regular scale as soon as his arrival here he was practicing with the gridiron and before asking whether he is going to play ball or not.

Referring to the report that a man in the football team is going to be lured to sign a contract, Jones said: "It is not necessary to send out men to Portland to get me to sign a contract. Confidence in well acquainted with Jones knows that when I will ask a contract, and I do not intend to sign one. I am going to be generally found at the Lincoln High Schools in my desire to suit the game and generously assist a prize which is now in competition.

Local sports of Considers meets my figures I will play football next year. Now there are many interesting strikes team the league, that's about what I am trying to find Conway up, but I am not going anything of the sort."

Jones then continued his billiard game with Ed Bowes, which he won by a score of 500 to 300. Jones is a billiard player of no mean ability, as he has been champion of the local games this Summer and may be seen at any time at the Arlington Club in position to step up all of the players in the club.

Jones' manager, Sam Jones, of Chicago, was introduced to the famous leader of the Chicago Nine, and the first game of this he gopped to the big leaguer was: "Say, Mr. Chance, what do you think of Jones?" "He is the best one we are going to play with Chicago this season!"

"That is correct," replied Jones.

"Oh, you must have a pile of money coming to you," said Chance, and the manager good for the money. Jones replied by claiming the little Portland outfielder. Jones said he was not merely making an idiom his next steeping place, so where he was going next, replied, "Portland." He received welcome soon to the school

Champion Johnson Grieved, but Finds Comfort in Literature.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 11.—Some interesting comments are made in Rodney's news report received by the steamer Princess Victoria from Skagway. Rodney says that Champion Johnson, who by the by is also after to defeated Burns and Hackenschmidt for championship honors, admits failed to fete him. He said:

"I never expected to be defeated. My retreat is accident was bad when sustained in Australia, but I am not making excuses. Pilgrim's Progress' and Holmes Phrenic Science' are the books that rescues the Alexander Churches of which I am a member, and I do not do anything but read the Pilgrim's Progress for comfort. I am sorry I was defeated, but expected to be of value, that was my due. I was prepared to spar, play the game or refer from any other standard, but the churches spurned me, and I am sorry that the American people have been treated."

Mr. Johnson ministers interviewed in well acquainted with Jones knows that he barred from attending their churches. The Central Church and the Presbyterian had attended its church and was soon afterwards expelled.

PORTLAND LOBBY FAVORS STATE AID

Would Goad Harriman to Build Railroads to Central Oregon or Lose Business.

EXPECT FAVORABLE REPORT

Bill Amended So as to Permit Leasing of Railway to Private Individuals, but Final Sale of Same Is Forbidden.

SALEM, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Arguing for public construction and operation of railroads through Central Oregon, a delegation from the Portland Chamber of Commerce today appeared before the House committee on roads, which, considering a memorial, constitutional amendment proposed for the purpose of securing conditional harbor against such enterprises.

More than 100 persons were devoted to the work of arguing and revising the amendment which Speaker McArthur introduced last week, and it was shortened to about one-third its length and otherwise bested, without, however, changing the material purpose. The committee on republication is composed of Campbell of Clackamas, Chamberlain of Multnomah, Cox of Clatsop, McKinney of Baker and Reynolds of Morrow.

Favorable Report Likely.

The committee will probably report the amendment favorably. If adopted by the two houses it will be submitted to the people of the voters in the November election of 1910 or by the voters at a special election. A part of the amendment provides that the state shall not have been built, nor framed the amendment up to and before sale of a railroad ready to pay quarterly interest.

The Portland delegation were Wilson Lamberson, president of the Chamber; Secretary Cleeton, A. L. Barbur, W. M. Ladd, Irving Wilson, A. H. Devers, W. D. Peal and W. B. Ayer. The only opposition appeared from C. W. Bodine, who though objecting to public ownership, declared himself in favor of the bill. Mr. Bodine represented the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, which he intimated would be interested in building railroads in Central Oregon.

The witnesses presented two main arguments, one that the Harriman lines would be goaded to build railroads in Central Oregon, and, second, that the state could build railroads cheaper than private corporations. Mr. Lamberson declared Portland unanimously in favor of the amendment. Heine said that Seattle read was proof that a Central Oregon road would be built, and that the road would pay for itself within a few years. Ladd asserted that public ownership is inevitable. Ayer said there is no essential difference between Oregon's building a railroad and New York building the New canal.

When Taken Hand.

After the general talkfest, Chairman Campbell, confronted with the text of the amendment, insisted upon changes which he declared essential to avoid conflict with the National Constitution and to make the amendment conform to the state and any possible legislation. Redrafting of the original amendment was then engaged in and a new section submitted at this conference. Wood, Trist, Ayer, W. B. Wilson and Lamberson took active part. The finished amendment reads as follows:

Section 1. The state of Oregon or the people of Oregon shall have power to exercise railroad franchise within the state, and may construct railroads within the state, highways or canals.

Sec. 2. The state or any county, municipality or political division thereof, shall not grant, donate or subscribe to the stock, bonds or bonds of any railroad company, or other highway corporation, or make any donation to the same, except as may be authorized by the people at an election held for the purpose of the question of granting such aid, and no such aid shall be granted for the purchase or construction of any railroad, unless it be first submitted to the people.

Sec. 3. The state may condemn, under the right of eminent domain, any railroad, wagon road or highway within the state, but in case of purchase by voluntary agreement the state shall not be required to pay the cost of duplicating the property at the time of purchase.

Bill Amended Last Hundred.

Sec. 4. The state, or any county, municipality or political division thereof, shall operate any railroad or other highway unless a majority of the votes cast at an election held for the purpose shall be in favor of the same, and no railroad or other highway shall be leased by the state, or any county, municipality or political division thereof, for the payment of the interest or principal of any bonds issued for the purpose of the construction or acquisition of such railroad or other highway, or for the payment of any contract in connection therewith.

Sec. 5. The state or any county, municipality or political division thereof, shall not, directly or indirectly, own, operate or control any railroad, except as may be necessary for the state, county, municipality or political division thereof, to own, operate or control for the purpose of connecting or securing transportation for the products of the state.

Sec. 6. The ports and harbors of the state shall be improved only by the state, and no other municipality or political division shall have the power to improve any harbor, except by the consent of the state, and then only under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state.

Sec. 7. The legislature shall have power to pass laws for the enforcement of the provisions of this amendment.

Sec. 8. This amendment shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the next general election for members of the legislature, or at a special election, as the legislature may provide.

BEER SALE BILL SLAIN IN HOUSE

Calkins Exposes Joker and Friends of Measure Vote Against It.

NO AMENDMENT THIS YEAR

Friends of Local Option Law Too Strong in Legislature to Permit Cut of Charges Asked For by Liberals.

SALEM, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Discovery by Representative Calkins of a "joker" in substitute House bill 187, providing for practical elimination of saloons in Portland, was not alone, as distinguished from widely and other bills, responsible for the defeat of measure coming in the shortest period on record in the House this afternoon. Following the exposure by Calkins Mitchell and Patton, members of the committee on liquor traffic, who reported the bill favorably, and McCue and Kelly, who voted for it on the floor of the House, voted against an indefinite postponement. Only four Representatives voted against it. Calkins was responsible for the favorable report on the bill, and Mitchell, Patton, McCue and Kelly were members of the committee.

As originally introduced, the bill proposed an amendment to the charter of the Industry." This form was objectionable to the committee on various points, and which returned an unfavorable report. The bill was then redrafted, and in its present form proposed an amendment to the charters of the cities in the State Land Board. The bill was then redrafted, and in its present form proposed an amendment to the charters of the cities in the state affected. Calkins discovered the joker in the amendment after the bill had been printed and placed on the calendar

MORE PATRONAGE GIVEN GOVERNOR

House Passes Bill for More Supreme Justices, With Emergency Clause.

KING AND SLATER SLATED

Present Supreme Court Commissioners Will Be Elevated by Chamberlain to Two Places Created by New Measure.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Feb. 11.—(Special)—Waiving aside all question of constitutionality and insisting that the emergency clause should be retained, the House this morning passed Senator Hawley's bill providing for two additional justices of the Supreme Court, to replace the two Commissioners who have been in that capacity for the last two years.

The bill now goes to the senate to receive its signed salary of $10 and also to be appointed by Governor Chamberlain to serve until November, 1910, when their successors will be elected. With the appointing power vested in the Governor the terms Dunbar and Slater have been fixed at six years.

W. R. King and T. T. Slater, the present Supreme Court Commissioners, will be given the places.

The debate which preceded the vote was brief. Representative Hawley, in bringing the bill before the house, declared that there was urgent need for an increase of court, while Burk contended that the emergency clause should be removed and the people given the right to say whether or not they wanted two additional judges. Representative Hawley declared that unless the bill carried with corresponding clause to eliminate the emergency clause but this would result in a voting contest which bill Childs said he did so for the reason that he was not in favor of the measure in its present form.

The vote on the bill was:

Ayes—Alexander, Applegate, Barrett, Beals, Bean, Bellilieu, Belknap, Bones, Brady, Bruhn, Burgess, Burk, Burnside, Buchanan, Clemens, Carlisle, Davis, Dimick, Dobbin, Eddy, Ellsworth, Ellis, Mahoon, Mahoney, Gilbert, Gilmore, Hawley, Cox, McDonald, McFlinner, Meeh, Miller, Marsters, Nelson, Patterson, Pollock, Reed, and Speaker Manning—38.

Nays—Bailey, Barnes, Brooks, Bryant, Childs, Clarke, Coleman, Cooper, Crosby, Dennis, Purrell, Geer, Gerner, Hattenberg, Hawley, Hayden, Hedges, Hoffman, Jones and Pohl, Jones (Douglas), Jones (Clackamas), Kaufman, Kelly, Kuykendall, Richardson, Rose and Smith, S.

Absent—Gates, Lee.

Local Option Bills Shelved.

There is the probability that the Legislature will pass any of the various bills that have been introduced providing for means to the local option voters in the dry territory of the state. Many of the members are being besieged with petitions in favor of such bills, and urging them to keep their hands off of the situation and let the voters decide matters.

Motormen's Seats Bill Passes.

Senator Gates' bill, requiring motormen and street railway companies to provide seats for motormen while on duty, passed the Senate this morning with only one dissenting vote, that of Senator Pringle. In explaining his vote, Senator Pringle said he feared that the installation of the proposed seats would have a tendency to increase the liability of accident.

Senator Gates, in his argument for the passage of the bill, said that experience goes when it is necessary to attend real property in a city it is frequently impossible for motormen to leave their posts. The bill was opposed by several members of the House and had only 16 votes in its favor. It was passed by the Senate yesterday and was sent to the House this afternoon.

Floor Rule Enforced.

The House in adhering strictly to the letter of its new resolution, adopted early in the session and restricting the floor privileges of the House to members of the Legislature, officials of the state and state officials, Farrell of McMinnville this morning refused to recognize Senator Gates, and during the temporary absence of Speaker Manning, when Gates' name was read in roll call motion was extended to Alex Bernstein, of Portland, author of the law, was about to make the question when McArthur inquired from the floor:

"Is Mr. Bernstein a former member of the Legislature or a former member of the city?"

"He is a state official," replied Farrell.

As a result the executives were denied the floor, and the lobby was left to the tender mercies of the lobby observed by some of the members seated within the bar, taking to a 10 to 1 bet of Portland. Others quietly suggested to the chair that the suggestion could be interpreted to exclude from the floor all persons not entitled to the privileges of the floor, and especially the idle and curious and the lobby.

Provision for the removal of the State Penitentiary from Salem to some point convenient near Salem to some point nearer the State Capitol, and for the sale of the present site, and the use from its proceeds of a site and the construction of a penitentiary building, it is proposed to transfer the property and the penitentiary to the city of this territory is the object of a bill introduced in the House today.

To Recover Tide Lands.

Recovery to the state of about 3,000 acres of tide land known as Sauvie's Island County is undertaken to be gained by a bill introduced in the House today by Smith of Multnomah and Jones (Clackamas) Polk. It does not that the act of the Oregon Legislature of 1874, authorizing, amended, granting these lands to the Willamette Iron & Steel Company, on condition that it construct a railroad from Portland to Astoria within three years, within two years be repealed. It is charged by Mr. Jones that although the terms of the grant were extended for a term of years elapsed, the railroad company failed to construct the road. The bill further provides that the lands so reverted to the state shall be disposed of in the manner provided by law for other incomes now adopted. Bills were introduced in the Senate.

By Bell—Providing for the appointment of a notary public in Multnomah County.

By Gates—Authorizing certain officers to serve papers in certain cases.

By Hawley—Providing for the appointment of two additional justices of the Supreme Court

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, FEB. 12, 1909.

THE GOOD OLD ANGEL INN.

There many years ago was a tavern known as the Angel Inn, and again has given expression to its hospitality on the strongest terms it could command, coupled with promises of those charity responsible for the distinctions, the blotches and the blights that contribute to the welfare of the state. The distinction long has been a grievous one, and he engravan the grievous conditions pertaining to insanity made more than have been effective. Large revenues are obtained from the state by the means of the Harriman lines. The great commission-ties that dominate the railways in the power in position to do the work which the state should have done long ago. It needs itself to act at Or. Oregon, and to act with more zeal in its kind, and for more purposes than it has exhibited heyond its field. While its desire to compete with the states in other and more hard conditions for them, is natural and legitimate, it has no right to be a neglect territory wholly its own.

What remedies for these ills we know not, nor when the masters of the Oregon will apply them. Or even, can be induced to move, nor how; nor whether neglected but rotted for the section of their own interests can ever induce them to do it. But it is time suggested as a motive, how they can do it, and when they will do it. And that the people of the state will not forever upon the policy of construction is not believed. They will, because they do not believe the state will do it, because such understanding would call down financial ruin upon the state. Because they have lost faith with the failure events to come there would seem a readjustment that could not be unpossible to themselves for the party of the state. Oregon, ought to say frankly that it will aid to the amount of the power to compensate to any change of the Constitution proposed that would put an end to the state in the construction and operation of railroads. It would be the most unwise policy possible for the state to which welfare. For this journal is unwilling to see the people of Oregon plunged into bankruptcy, all the property within it mortgaged for enormous sums to bondholders and confiscatory taxation imposed for the interest. Every part of the state would want its share of the development and would be entitled to it; and this state, with its great wealth, would soon be loaded with a debt exceeding that of any other state of the Union. All the schemes of politics and of politicians would turn on the public business and a system of official rapine and of corruption would be created more or extended than would be the inevitable consequence. The taxpayer is the greatest sufferer, but he is dragged into this folly he would call on the magnates to help him!

For many of the citizens who seem to exaggerate their ability to pay are to the richest respect. But thus far they appear not to have realized or even considered it. Some of them have a good feel of their wealth, and of what they have brought further about the matter, but they scarcely wish the state to get to confession. Assuredly the people of the state do not wish to give their consent to the plan. The Constitution is not to be changed so wholesomely relieved. For, six years ago, the people of the state voted against it, and will so approve it. The number is not small, nor is their intention. The people of our state have at all time or another tried the business, and evidence of them has suggested it; while in some of them entire and its evasions or defects of others. It has brought absolute ruin and disaster. The people of such states no longer, so formerly supposed, so available supplies. The mandates of the Supreme Court of the United States have not been obeyed. Millions and bonds as Oregon shall loan as much as it can, but the end must come sooner or later.

On theoretical ideas of a political nature the people of Oregon have shown a willingness to amend the Constitution, but on a practical matter of this kind, which therefore conclusion of the people, they have never will. Besides, this old Constitution long has been a friend to the state, thus far has been the savior of the state. It has been a bulwark and a bridge, that has carried us over many a danger. It is not to be supposed, yet; vague reverences of it as a sacred and solemn relation. It embodies great lessons of tradition, of experience and history, which are not yet wholly lost. Proposals like the last have not found great acceptance and the present further desperate effort to change the Constitution in this matter is not believed that the people will still stay by the old ship and stand by the helm. The constitutions may seem plausible, but they are based on fundamental error in the work of the economist, and the experience of many years has shown the folly the machinery of the state. We did not think ourselves then wiser than all who had gone before us, and it would be a mistake should we think ourselves wiser now. Isn't the old inn a good still comfortable and safe lodging? Wouldn't we better stay with it? Let us be pardoned for quoting a bit of expensive doggerel used for a good English statesman when partisans of the French Revolution were urging changes of the governmental system in England to French forms. The situation is to a speed by Thomas Paine:

But liberals 1866 Democratic paper Have a mind to change it.
Change a new age, says Jerry Gwin in As like as Gaffer's hands on mate it,
In time they'll change the whole thing o'er
As unlike to what it was before
To suit the age and Angel Inn.

THE LINCOLN COMMEMORATION.

To-day is the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. It will be generally observed, as indicated by that fact for Washington. He is, indeed, the one man in our history who staggered all his political contemporaries and has since been the torment of this conqueror."

The world is still wondering and speculating many pages devoted to Abraham Lincoln, and many more will be written. In addition, as this paper was able to demonstrate, a new biography additional is needed; for the does not appear that this day is the one-hundredth anniversary of his nativity? This day, on the spot where he was born, sentiment from many states will be gathered. The spirit of the genius of his work, and of his fame—the latter is secure—will be the theme of the them; and from the Atlantic to the Pacific millions will be thought of and honored. Lincoln will be remembered every years and his name will be spoken by the lips of men.

There is no danger that we shall forget Lincoln, but there is danger that the anniversary of our great leader may be neglected. We have ceased to think in this country rather than to think of Washington, because of the cult's hundredth anniversary and of the fact that the Washington tradition is an excellent thing for us. It is to be hoped that the Lincoln anniversary will every year enthusiastic over our great leader, and that we shall not neglect the study of some great man every year because we have had a celebration for us. By honoring the memory of Lincoln we honor the best in our past principle in practice and, in some small degree, we add to the power that lives upon their great ones.

The Lincoln tradition receives much benefit from these commemoration anniversaries, and to study his career and example impress them more forcibly upon us. The noble words and deeds of the departed inspire them with new life, and the great men such as Lincoln fade deep into their memories. Lincoln's name is a household word, and his fame is secure and will be read. Nothing could be finer than the recent city hall memorial address and speech at the memorial exercises. This is the best way to keep alive the great monuments of the man who occupies the highest place in our history and our foremost National hero. It exemplifies the best citizenship. Lincoln's character more completely, perhaps, than that of any other public figure. If in the future the Gettysburg speech and the Second Inaugural Address of July with the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution will be appropriate in the course of time. It is right that we should study the traditions and the great men of the past, but more important that we should study the principles that they represented, and be now will abandon the politician. Having that conception of the most round of the leader he looks to the events, and to the men who grow by which he did second. Besides, he gets a better conception of his private secretary (Gaines) to a his private character and ideals and the devoted political friends to the Supreme Court.

When the people of the state of Oregon the referendum is republished very largely, it will appear to them in what virtue there may be in the initiative. Since we are told that there is no danger that the emergency clause is to be used in the future. It appears in no record against insertion of the emergency clause, and in the case of appeal to the people through the referendum, but the law in question will stand and be now will abandon the politician. THE DARWIN CENTENNIAL.

It is just one hundred years since Charles Darwin was born, and the story of his career has affected the thought of the civilized world more than that of any other man of the century. The remarkable theory of evolution was at once roundly disintegrating and radically revolutionary, and it has been the subject of incessant changes in all departments of thought. It has changed and will slowly but surely changing the logic of the world's thought. What Darwin did has to see the words or the conception of the universe. In the thought of our time, the magnitude of his work, and its far-reaching consequences, we are not even yet to a position to estimate. Whether we shall ever be able to do so is doubtful. The information is gathered philosophy, as well as of science, and the whole realm of biology that is without a parallel in the history of knowledge.

Darwin's great discovery is not new to the world. It is the discovery of a hypothesis but as a truth which the world has been slow to accept as a permanent science. It is a revelation of the method of creation that he proposed on every organization in existence. The theory of evolution is not that it on the conditions that tend to produce variation, and the struggle for existence among the individuals of each species, with the survival of individuals best adapted to their environment. Darwin's theory is an easy and lacking in the wealth of detail that has since been added to it by the progress of science. It is a different kind of thing that read upon it, or merely from the standpoint of the layman, to be understood. A corollary to this is the theory of sexual selection, also accepted by small degrees, with the capacity of the individual to secure mates as a result. From slow adaptation in this way, the development of species of survival of individuals and of stocks; and as Wallace says, "The best survive, and, or the most healthy, or the most vigorous, or the most intelligent, or the most intellectual, will inevitably, in the long run, obtain the greatest number of favorable offspring, and thus secure the ultimate victory."

The principle applies to all organisms, and it is a practical matter to apply it to the human race. Darwin himself did not suppose the law in his own case, but he applied it to animals and to the lower animals or plants that he favored, and he was the first to suggest that society is deeply affected by the same principle. Its application tends to elimination, for the most part indirectly, of the weak and the unfit in the present purposes. Hence human society is not subject to change as the Orient. Of course, however, it has no compulsion to apply the principle, even without knowledge of its future, except as it is forced from time to time by the pressure of circumstances.

Objection has been made to the statement that Darwin was an original discoverer, and it is some the objection is well founded. For French encyclopedia the observations of more than two hundred years before Darwin announced. The brilliant Frenchman, Buffon, and Lamarck, Geoffroy, or further back, had clearly observations more ambitious rather than interpretations of facts. Darwin's observations immense, but the results were not definable. The way had to be paved for the interpretation. Darwin came, and he supplied the important idea that facts were correlated with fresh observations, and he has been justly regarded as an apostle to theory was established in the world's thought through all organic life, including man and human society.

IF IN A GREYCOS ABUE

The "emergency" plea employed to justify the condemnation of Multnomah Judges for the Circuit and Supreme courts to appeal to the people has already won through it, and the people will not approve the action taken by the Legislature. The authors of these measures in the closing hours of the session to cut off the referendum, to which they knew objection would be made if the emergency clause were not attached.

They are not to be taken up with the most trivial and unimportant matters that are brought to them by the people, and by the way, they are not to be a good, wholesome function of the courts. The people are sick of the delays of public abuses to battle constitutional questions that their "cousins" in the court to which they appeal, and the gentlemen of their own quarrelsome, and they are sick of seeing people to maintain the tribunals and they do not contribute to the public. Only a small proportion of the cases that are brought to the courts are those of people who are responsible for anything, and that fact is largely caused by lawyers, who make their living out of the delays and the law, to become a set of legitimate industry and the public property.

The people of the state, to The Oregonian believes, will not be content with incompetence in their proceedings and with the delays that are due to inefficiency. NAVAL MISMANAGEMENT.

The naval bill, which was to be Senate Washington Wednesday, breaks all previous records for extravagance and climates—by asking for the enormous appropriation of $31,000,000. This is nothing more than $1,000,000 in excess of the House authorization, which in view of the enormous debt which this country is piling up, is already accepted belief that unmanageable and unnecessary expenditures of naval waste in the naval expenditures, and that the appropriations are made with vested emotions by the people who are back of the navy, and consider it a sacrilege to touch the elements needful to its strength, is not drained by these people, but as evidence of a kind of graft presented to show that there is needless waste in the navy. It is going on the time that announcement of a general reorganization in all directions drastically received.

The report of Mr. Hale Newberry, in the Literary Digest, exposes the serious charges of needless waste that were made by George Kibbe Turner in McClure's magazine. The best example he can readily and lacking in the wealth of detail that has since been added to it by the progress of science. It is a different kind of thing that read upon it, or merely from the standpoint of the layman, to be understood. CITY LIQUOR LAWS WILL BE AMENDED

Council Instructs Committee to Draw Them Up So That They Harmonize.

BIG FILL IS AUTHORIZED

Inman-Poulsen Company Gets Permit for Work on Grand Avenue and Renews Fight Against East Stark Opening.

A special committee of the City Council, with which City Attorney Kavanaugh will co-operate, was authorized by the Council yesterday afternoon to revise the liquor ordinances so that they will be harmonious. The action of the Council was taken immediately following the decision of the Circuit Court against the city in the restaurant liquor-license case. The task before the committee is a big one, and it will be undertaken with a thoughtful mien. Mayor Simon, which was announced by Councilman Baker, and it is very likely that will be members of the committee.

There is said Mr. Rushlight, "that the Circuit Court has decided against the city in the case of the restaurants, and in opinion, that the city cannot collect the fee for back fees, and therefore have the revenue from should I find it. I therefore moves that a special committee of the Council be appointed to draw up such ordinances as may be necessary to remedying the liquor business, so that they will be intelligible and workable."

Cellars Law Is Boosted.

The motion was passed without a discussion. Mr. Rushlight explained that authority to such amendments as it may deem fit, and the Council will then take up such amendments at the next meeting. It was said be seen that the whole question of the liquor business will be opened up. Mayor Simon says that he will not appoint the committee for two or three days, as he wants to consult with various members before he does so.

The majority of the Councilmen are opposed to the Cellers ordinance, however, and some of them declare that it is up, and others are opposing it are Messrs. Rushlight and Baker. The only way the ordinance can be passed, it is said, is that Mayor Lane voted another one of the Council. Mayor Lane has always been very insistent when it comes to casting the vote. Therefore the Cellers law will be left to effect. It is thought that the city to women, except in open and public drinking rooms, under not less than a quarter fee of their spouse; and because of the Cellers law, it is said that in many saloon places, the majority members of the Council have refused to grant any restaurant liquor licenses at all.

During the afternoon session of the Council, the Inman-Poulsen Company, engaging of large quantities of material North Portland with Belgian block was granted permit. Mayor Lane does not want it, street Representing to the extent of approximately $6,000 with the Council. This is considered the greatest victory that the Inman-Poulsen people have scored in the city.

Fight Over Street Renewed.

After securing permission from the Council to fill in and improve Grand avenue, between Stark and Oak streets, the Inman-Poulsen Company renewed its fight against the East Stark street, from Sherman to Grand avenue. Another Council meeting, two weeks hence, was fixed to be introduced an ordinance enabling the improvement on East Stark street, from Sherman to Grand avenue. The ordinance will be introduced at the next meeting of the Council, and the passage of the ordinance, and ensure it to be submitted to the property-owners. Councilman Commissioner Introduced his ordinance, and it was referred to the city attorney, and the ordinance will be the first of several exchanges. Mr. Baker, who has always been the chief opponent of the occasion to poke fun at the Democratic member, and said he thought that the remarks as it was the opinion effort of Mr. Baker to "get even" with the Republicans for the right to control the Council.

Mr. Rushlight, Mayor Lane, Councilman Commissioner Introduced his ordinance, and it was referred to the city attorney, which he thought that the ordinance would be in order. RESTAURANTS WIN IN LIQUOR CASE

Granted Privilege of Selling Drinks Under Decision of Judge Gantenbein.

CITY TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Law Passed By Council Is Practically Annulled by Ruling Against Demurrer in Injunction Proceedings.

Restaurantkeepers who are fighting the new liquor ordinance passed by the people at the June election, won a victory of importance yesterday in the State Circuit Court when Judge Gantenbein rendered a decision that practically annulled the ruling against the city in the case of Kenny & Hoffman, restaurantkeepers, who sought an injunction restraining the police from interfering with their business. The decision of Judge Gantenbein was rendered in overruling the demurrer of the city to the complaint filed by the restaurantkeepers. The effect of the decision is that the restaurants will be permitted to sell liquor under the provisions of the old ordinance, which was repealed by the people at the June election, and which was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Judge Gantenbein, in rendering his decision, held that the fact that the city had passed an ordinance repealing the old ordinance did not affect the rights of the restaurants to sell liquor under the provisions of the old ordinance. The decision of Judge Gantenbein is considered by attorneys for the restaurants as significant, inasmuch as it will be necessary for the city to bring a new suit in order to enforce the provisions of the ordinance passed by the people at the June election.

RIDDELL DRAWS BIG CROWD

Tells Audience How to Cultivate Powerful Personality.

Dr. Newton N. Riddell, the lecturer on brain building, psychology and heredity, was the center of attraction for a large audience at the White Temple last night. Riddell's lecture was the first of a series of seven to be given by him, and the large audience here made up of the thoughtful people of Portland, many professional men, lawyers, teachers and beauty specimens exhibited a deep interest in the subject. The subject discussed was "The Psychology of Success, or How to Cultivate a Personality." In his course of his remarks he said:

"I will work through personalities when I speak also—the world is a world made up of personalities. Success and failure depend upon the cultivation of personality and communicating the Success-Idea to others. Success is the greatest thing in the world and the greatest thing in the hearts of men and every humanity is Christ. Every man is a success in his own mind, and every man is a success in the estimation of the entire source of success. Every great leader has been a great success. Christ, Julius Caesar and Napoleon were successes. The way to success for all is to develop the best and strongest personality.

"The lecturer then gave definite methods for building personality. Among these were to strengthen the intellect, control the emotions—do good at length and the commercial value of integrity and honesty, and of cultivating every good trait of character.

Tonight will be the most important number of the Riddell lectures. Subject, "Heredity of Prenatal Culture." Those who attended last night and over 200,000 have been expended in grubbing out the stumps and roots and the land has been ploughed several times in many of the large Commissions. The speaker promises to give one hundred of Miss Mary Baker Eddy. Robert Ingersoll, Peter Cox Kitt, the Diamond Family and others.

THESE TALKED TO LINCOLN

Three Residents of Vancouver Remember Dead President.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—There are three citizens of Vancouver who met and conversed with Abraham Lincoln. They are Civil War veterans, Colonel J. T. Gove, ex-commander of the Department of Washington and Alaska, G. A. R., and a member of ex-Governor Moore's staff, and Captain Charles Jenkins, and the third is J. C. Ogden.

Colonel Gove met Lincoln in 1858. "Lincoln and Douglas," said Colonel Gove, "were running for United States Senate, and I went to Atlanta, Ill., and heard the two speak. I had a delightful visit that evening and went to a social in the parlors of the hotel where I met Lincoln and Douglas and Lincoln's wife. He was seated on the platform at the time and a band of Illini children were playing patriotic songs and chatting with him. When I was presented to him I noticed that he was taller than about his debate with Douglas, but he was a very tall man. Douglas was also started to shake a white mane everywhere he went."

Mr. Jenkins was in a hospital at Petersburg when Lincoln visited the hospital. "I was lying on a cot," said Jenkins, "and Dean, as a lad of years, spent the evening at the home of Lincoln in Springfield. Mr. Lincoln was very much interested in the boy and he was a great man."

LINCOLN RELIC TREASURED BY LOVE FAMILY OF PORTLAND

GRIP PRESENTED TO FREDERICK LOVE BY ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

H. P. Love, of 132 Eleventh street, treasures among his family keepsakes a valise and battered grip that was presented to his father, Frederick Love, by Abraham Lincoln. The accompanying cut shows the valise that has been jealously guarded by the love family since it was given to Frederick Love at Springfield, Ill., in 1841. Battered and old it is no less valuable in the eyes of the owner than when it was new and so handsome as any article of its kind then in use. Mr. Love's father was a hotel keeper of Marion, Ind., and was a personal friend of Mr. Lincoln. When the former was visiting at Springfield, Mr. Lincoln took occasion to present his friend with this grip as a evidence of friendship and regard. The valise has traveled about the country a great deal but for the past 18 years it has not been used. It has been covered with canvas to preserve its original appearance as much as possible. It was given to H. P. Love by his father in 1858.

WRESTLER WILL LOAD FOR PERU

Barkentine Will Carry Full Cargo of Lumber to Port of Negritos.

SECOND CRAFT FROM HERE

West Coast Port Is Only Three Years Old and the Builder Ranchmen Was First Ship to Enter.

The barkentine Wrestler, which arrived in the local harbor yesterday from San Francisco, will load lumber out for Negritos, Peru. This will make the second cargo ever sent from Portland to that port and this will be the distribution of landing the first cargo ever received at the port.

Negritos is a new port in Peru and has only been on the map for three years. The first cargo of lumber ever loaded in that place was taken from Portland on the British ship Inverness. The ship could not get early in the Spring and left almost the close of September.

Lumber exports, foreign, were increased nearly 1,000,000 feet yesterday by the clearance of the barkentine Wrestler, which carried 1,600,000 feet, valued at $19,152. She steamed for Callao, Peru. The demand for lumber on the West Coast has been increasing steadily for several months, a large order will soon be given for delivery at that point.

Gray submitted a bid for a launch also, at its meeting yesterday afternoon the commission decided to call for bids for two launches to be used on the bar. It is expected that the price asked for the launches will be between $8,000 and $9,000. The consideration is waiting for the arrival of J. S. Polhemus before taking action in the matter.

Bids for repairs for the tug Wallula, for a steel membrane anchor, and for provision, meats, butter, eggs, and fruits and spices were opened yesterday. J. M. Scobie, W. H. Pilot Haslam, of the steamer T. J. Potter, has been suspended by United States Inspectors Edwards and Fuller for 30 days, as the result of the hearing on Saturday. Mr. Haslam, the officer in charge on the steamer Potter on the afternoon of January 27 when they went up the river and sank the steamer No Wonder. Captain Haslam was found guilty of the latter count at the time of the collision was exonerated from all blame in connection.

The steamer T. J. Potter, from Astoria to Portland, passed the No Wonder shortly before 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and the pilot of the Potter did not.

Buoys and Beacons to Be Replaced.

Officials of the lighthouse service have given notice that the tender Heather will replace buoys and beacons on the Columbia River bar. The work commenced last month and for the past two months the Heather has been at Astoria with coal on board for the Columbia River lightship. The latter vessel is short on fuel and the weather has been so bad that the Heather was unable to transfer the coal. Now that the lightship vessel is burning along the river and the bar every effort has been made to replace all aids to navigation in the district.

Lighthouse Headquarters to Stay.

That there is no danger of the Tillamook lighthouse district headquarters being removed to Bellingham from Portland is evidenced in advices received yesterday by Secretary Ormond C. Gilbert, of the Chamber of Commerce from Beamer Stearns. The matter has been up for some time at Washington and Senator Piles has been instrumental in having unfavorable reports to the Chamber of Commerce advising of the progress of negotiations. He announces now that the matter is settled and no change will be made. This will be welcome news to the many friends of the lighthouse who have been disturbed by the thought that Portland would lose the headquarters.

WOULD RUN TRAINS

United Is Anxious to Begin Service to Holbrook.

MUST APPLY TO COUNCIL

Franchise Provides That Line Must Be Laid on Hillsboro Line Operation Starts, but Concession Will Be Asked.

Whether or not the United Railways will operate passenger trains between Portland and Hillsboro early next month is a question upon which the City Council, according to Councilman Franzen, has decided it not advisable to pass pending action by the Railroad Commission. It will be necessary for the company to make certain of its rights before undoubtedly, appear before the city officials and ask for the right to operate, which to have done before the franchise became binding may be operated in defiance, for the by-that point each road will be being almost completed.

Early in March, it is expected will be ready to operate trains from the Chamber of Commerce to Hillsboro, a distance of 25 miles. Trolley wires are now being strung on Main street and as soon as the new line are on their way here from the East they will be placed in position on the rest of the line. The Holbrook line has been completed and is now in operation.

An hourly service is planned on the new line. Steel is being laid on the road between Lincoln and Sylvania and the grading is nearly finished. The latter place, however, is behind in the work and the road will be completed as far as Holbrook by the middle of March. Work on the Holbrook line has been pushed with all speed possible and it is now completed a portion of its way to Sylvania. Work on the Sylvania line has been delayed by the refusal of property owners to grant concessions to the company for the right of way. Condemnation suits will be started at once and it is expected that the road will be completed to Sylvania by the middle of April.

Although this is supposed to be only a preliminary step, it is believed that the completion of this company will appear before the Council and ask for the right to operate trains. Now that the Holbrook line is completed it is the intention of the company to push the construction of the Sylvania line with all possible speed. Work is being done the new road are expected to be completed in support of this contention.

The Baker Stock Company's next week offering will be "In the Bishop's Carriage," a play which has been a great success in the hands of the stock companies in which it has been produced. The story interest what has been said of the play is sufficient to insure a full house at the matinee and night performances. Miss Morgan, leading lady of the company, will have the title role and will no doubt be seen to good advantage.

"Three Twins" Coming to Orpheum.

Everybody remembers what the fellow who saw "Three Twins" said when he left the rehearsal room. "The funny part," he said, "is the Baker" in Portland at the Orpheum next week. Miss Bessie Clayton, the premier dancer of "Three Twins," but all over she stands by herself when she reaches the footlights and when she reaches the footlights and when she reaches the footlights and

HOPS ARE NO LOWER

New Business Shows Values Well Maintained.

METZLER BUYS HEAVILY

Pays 8 Cents for the Hofer & Zorn Lot at Chamgore — Improvement Reported in the London Market.

The first big deal for importation into the United States of hops from the new crop was closed yesterday when A. J. Metzler bought 432 bales from growers. The lots were those of Hofer & Zorn, of Chamgore, 231 bales, and the Lesh Hop Company, of Dallas-ite, 201 bales. Mr. Metzler paid 8 cents for the Hofer & Zorn hops and a slightly lower price for the lots for the Lesh brand.

The terms show there has been no recession in values since last month in spite of the recent period of inactivity. As it was generally expected that there would be a general upward move February 1, there is the expectation that hops could be bought cheaper than the January prices, but it is likely they will now proceed to 25 their values. It would not take much of a rising flurry by season to send available values to higher figures.

Buying market conditions are reported by the British Observer of January 23 as follows:

"Farmer more trade than is usual at this time of the year has been done in the hop line, but of small lots. Market keys await a slight advance on any parties of fairly good size. Some growers are holding out for more money, but the majority of the business has been brought about at up some time ago. Considering what American markets are unchanged, with prices for good hops very firm, the London trade is rather quiet at present.

Messrs A. Sinley—There is a fair trade for good lots of hops at the present rate of prices, but the majority of growers have hops for sale at higher rates.

W. H. and E. Le May—The demand is fair for good hops, but growers are asking for too high rates and as current prices are practically good value for export purposes, we do not anticipate any further rise, as there are very small stocks in the country.

Cutler, Goldsby & Co—An improved demand has been experienced for hops of fine quality, and a number of small parcels of really good quality realized fancy prices. Most hops are now in the hands of the consumers, and the quantity of choice quality remaining in growers' hands is very small, with the Pacific Coast International Exhibition approaching."

WHEAT HUMMER IN THE INTERIOR.

Fancy Prices Are Paid for Bleeders at Spokane.

Though gaining in strength every day, the local wheat market is not showing the activity in shares at points in the interior. Spokane reports a fairly active session, but from what can be gathered at 8:14 here San Francisco buying does not come up in their usual proportions. Many of the dealers here are in a thought probable the California centers may have to look elsewhere to meet wheat needs, when per haps they will be forced to pay higher rates for the product.

Local fancy prices will be advanced in a few days, probably 20 cents per barrel, to keep up with the rise of the wheat market.

POTATO BUYING NEARLY CEASES.

Decline at an Interview Price Follows Rise in Hops.

With the break in the San Francisco potato market, buying operations in this section have practically ceased, and there will be no more of any consequence done in the fall and known who actually want supplies will be able to get them at a lower price than the average paid, as growers generally are now willing to pay over $1.25 in the Portland market.

The shipment of about the entire harvest of the California surplus, but the departure in the latter end of the week of the last car sent out from here was accelerated by heavy rains which made the roads impassable and enabled the shippers to get the last carload preferably with the question of transportation. Growers who have potatoes to sell at interior points will now have to come in to Portland to dispose of their crops, and the buyers will now have to come in to Portland to get their supplies, as there has been no fall downward, particular in a price around $1.25.

VEGETABLE PRICES LOWER.

Last Car of Cauliflower in the Way to Portland.

The late heavy receipts of California produce have nearly all been worked off, and prices are lower in consequence. Yesterday's arrivals consisted of a single car of oranges and one car each of celery and sweet potatoes. The last car from Grayson was on the list.

California advices report that cauliflower supplies are practically exhausted in the south, and that the last car will be shipped this week, and will probably wind up the season's business.

Slow Demand for Eggs.

Egg receipts continued yesterday and the demand was very slow. The general feeling is that the market will be unchanged for the week ahead.

Chickens were firm and all kinds of poultry steady and unchanged.

The butter market was steady, with an entire absence of change, was firm and unchanged.

Bank Clearings.

Bank clearings of the Northwestern cities yesterday were as follows:
